A LETTER TO MAINE TAXPAYERS

As the top Democratic leaders in the Legislature, we are offering a counter proposal to Governor Paul LePage's budget. Our Better Deal for Maine is a win for Maine families. It grows our economy from the middle out, by putting more money in the pockets of working families and investing in our economic future.

The Better Deal for Maine prioritizes tax cuts for the middle class, lowers property taxes for all Maine homeowners, and invests in our students, workers and communities. It does so by asking nonresidents, the wealthy and corporations to pay their fair share. Unlike the Governor's proposal, the Better Deal for Maine is fully paid for and balanced now and into the future.

While Democratic leaders commend the Governor for initiating a much-needed conversation about tax reform, his budget takes Maine in the wrong direction. Maine's economy lags behind the nation in job growth and wages. His budget will make it worse.

Our Better Deal for Maine is a win for working families. It prioritizes tax cuts for the middle class. It lowers property taxes for all Maine homeowners and it invests in our schools, communities and economic future.

The Governor's plan puts tax breaks for Maine's wealthiest individuals and corporations ahead of tax cuts for working class families and will result in increased property taxes. It shortchanges investment in schools, public safety, transportation, job training, health care and other foundational pieces of a strong, sustainable economy. Elsewhere in the United States, we have seen these kind of top-down economic policies result in fiscal crisis and deep cuts to schools.

The Governor's plan puts tax breaks for Maine's wealthiest individuals and corporations ahead of tax cuts for working class families.

Maine families deserve a better deal. Democrats look forward to working with our Republican colleagues and the Governor to do what's best for Maine families and our economy. We want to hear from you, so please join us in town halls and forums across the state or contact us directly at the State House.

WHO BENEFITS

The Better Deal for Maine is a win for Maine families and our economy. It puts more money in the pockets of working families. It lowers property taxes for all Maine families and invests in our schools and workers by asking the wealthy and corporations to pay their fair share.

If you are a young family or a senior struggling to keep up with rising property taxes, our deal is better for you: The Better Deal for Maine cuts property taxes by $120 million annually for Maine residents by doubling the Homestead Exemption for all Maine homeowners and increasing the Property Tax Fairness Credit by more than $57 million per year.

If you are a parent, a student, or a worker, our deal is better for you: The Better Deal for Maine invests in our economic future by bolstering investment in Maine schools, students and workers.

If you live or work in rural Maine, our deal is better for you: The Better Deal for Maine prevents property tax hikes and cuts to vital local services like police, fire and public works. It increases funding for revenue sharing to $80 million each year while rejecting taxes on non-profits.

If you work hard and are simply trying to save for retirement or maybe just the next family vacation, our deal is better for you: The Better Deal for Maine cuts income taxes by hundreds of dollars for the vast majority of Maine families while asking the wealthiest 5 percent to pay their fair share.

If you are small business owner, our deal is better for you: The Better Deal for Maine asks corporations to pay their fair share and levels the playing field by no longer allowing large corporations to hide their money in offshore tax havens.

A Better Deal:

for young families and seniors

The LePage budget cuts taxes for large corporations and the wealthy by eliminating property tax relief for young families and seniors. The Better Deal for Maine lowers property taxes for all Maine homeowners by $120 million per year.

for students and workers

Governor LePage's budget abandons investment in our schools, students and workers. Our Better Deal for Maine invests in public education from pre-kindergarten through high school, college and job training programs, ensuring economic success for our students and workers, and setting the state on the path for a stronger economic future.

for Maine communities

Governor LePage's budget eliminates funding for revenue sharing that supports fire, police, and public works in Maine communities. The Better Deal for Maine keeps the state's promise and increases funding for revenue sharing for local services like police, fire, and public works.

for Maine's middle class

Governor LePage's plan gives the largest tax cuts to Maine's wealthiest residents. The Better Deal for Maine targets income tax cuts to middle- and low-income Mainers. The Governor's plan gives 50 percent of income tax cuts to the top 10 percent. Under the Better Deal for Maine, 98 percent of income tax relief goes to the bottom 95 percent.

is fully paid for Governor LePage's budget sets Maine up for a fiscal crisis and will leave a $300 million hole in the budget that will lead to deep cuts in education. Our Better Deal for Maine is fully paid for and is fiscally responsible.

Our plan builds the economy from the middle out. It is built on the fundamental belief that if you create more opportunity for people, they will have a greater chance at success. If you put more money in the pockets of working families, they will spend it locally at our businesses and grow our economy. It is simple middle-class economics. Our targeted tax cuts are paid for and won't create a huge $300 million budget hole in the future. The Better Deal For Maine rejects the failed policies of trickle-down economics that gives more money to people who don't need it while crippling our ability to invest in the very things that lift up families, like schools, job training and health care.

HOW DOES OUR PLAN STACK UP?

Middle Class Tax Cut

Under the Better Deal for Maine middle class families will, on average, see a larger overall tax cut.

Property Tax Relief

Our plan increases direct property tax relief for Maine Families by $120 million per year.

Increase Revenue Sharing

We avoid property tax hikes by increasing revenue sharing to $80 million per year while rejecting non-profit tax.

Lower Sales Tax

The governor's plan raises the sales tax to 6.5%. Under The Better Deal for Maine, we keep the sales tax at 5.5%.

Middle Class Economics vs. Trickle-Down Economics

The Better Deal for Maine builds on Governor Paul LePage's tax reform plan, but targets it more towards middle income families. It rejects the failed top-down economic policies that give tax breaks to the wealthy and corporations at the expense of the rest of us.

The Better Deal for Maine grows the economy using proven economic strategies of investing in our people and our communities to create more opportunity for Maine families. By putting more money in the pockets of working Mainers and making smart investments in our students and workers, we can grow good jobs and strong wages in our state.

The Way Life Should Be

HOW THIS IMPACTS THE AVERAGE MAINER

Fairness. Opportunity. Success.

These are the principles and values that define the Better Deal for Maine.

Whether you are a single mom, a family of four, or a retired couple, your family will see a bigger benefit under the Better Deal for Maine. It will put more money in your pocket, while also investing in our schools, our people, and our communities.

The Governor's plan helps those that need it the least -- the most.

The Better Deal for Maine builds for our future and builds our economy from the middle out-- not the top down.

APPENDIX- DOLLARS AND SENSE

Individual Income Tax: Like the LePage Plan, the Better Deal replaces the current system, in which the top bracket kicks in at a low income level, with a truly progressive rate and bracket system. It broadens the income tax base and simplifies the income tax by eliminating itemized deductions, as proposed by the Governor. It also adopts the LePage Plan to create a new credit for medical expenses. It eliminates the income tax on military pensions as proposed by the governor. Overall, these income tax changes provide an income tax cut for the bottom 95% of taxpayers, on average. The income tax will keep the current rate for the top 5% of taxpayers, on average, while eliminating deductions. It increases fairness in Maine's tax system and provide substantial tax relief for the vast majority of Mainers while costing the state far less than the LePage Plan would.

Refundable Sales Tax Fairness Credit: The Refundable Sales Tax Fairness Credit is a critical mechanism to offset the impacts of broadening sales taxes for low-income Mainers. The Better Deal adopts the Governor's proposal for a refundable sales tax fairness credit. The total value of the credit is estimated to be $71 million in FY 2019.

Refundable Property Tax Fairness Credit: The Property Tax Fairness Credit is important to restore targeted property tax relief that was lost with the elimination of the Circuit Breaker program. It is the best way to target property tax relief directly to Maine residents based on ability to pay. The Better Deal adopts the Governor's proposal to increase property tax relief under the Property Tax Fairness Credit by $58 million annually.
